KENTUCKY READY FOR FIRST SEMESTER EXAMS

Schedule Announced; 9 Summer and 11 First Semester Graduates

CHEMISTRY SATURDAY

The first semester examination of the scholastic year 1920-1921 are scheduled to begin Saturday, January 29. Students will matriculate for second semester Monday, February 7, and instruction will be resumed at the first hour, Tuesday, February 8. All chemistry examinations are scheduled for Saturday, January 29, and the exams upon the subjects in which classes meet on Monday, Wednesday and Friday will be held in the morning while the exams upon those subjects which meet on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday will be held in the afternoon. Students who are carrying subjects in which the classes meet at the first hour will be examined upon such subjects on Monday, those of the second hour, Tuesday, those of the third hour, Wednesday, and so on throughout the schedule.

It is the custom of the University of Kentucky to grant degrees in December and June of each year. The students who did summer work were graduated from the College of Arts and Sciences in December, 1920 were the following: Ruth Hoag, Tampa, Florida; Oscar V. Petty, Tennessee; Mrs. Irene Robertson Hank, Lexington; and Keevil Wallinford, Cynthiaana. Those graduates of the College of Agri-

KENTUCKY FRATS SOLVE THE HOUSING PROBLEM

Eleven Fraternity Houses Provide Rooms For 160 Men

Among the fraternities and clubs of the University of Kentucky there are eleven which have their own houses, and thus provide living quarters for one hundred and sixty students who otherwise would be scattered over the city, living with private families.

The result of these hundred and sixty men living in their own houses, is that it not only helps solve the dormitory question, which is causing University much concern, but provides the University with a means whereby visiting prospective students may be entertained, the prospect thus become more thoroughly acquainted with the University before entering it.

At the fraternity or club there is an organized effort to see that men take part in student activity and maintain scholarship. And where the members of a fraternity or club are living together they are more able to maintain an organized body and enforce rules that in a way take the place of the protection and care that they would receive if they were living at home.

Following is a list of the fraternities and clubs that are living in their own houses.

GILL TO BE BASE BALL COACH HERE

Former Mentor to Return to Duties With Varsity Nine

IS CHOICE OF STUDENTS

At a meeting of the Athletic Council Monday afternoon it was decided that Andrew Gill, last year's mentor, would be called upon to lead the Wildcats through another season on the diamond. The baseball committee recommended Gill on the strength of his past record here and the fact that the student body and the baseball letter men are heartily in favor of him.

Coach Gill has guided the Kentucky diamonders through the past three seasons and his work has been of the highest type. During his mentorship here Gill piloted the Wildcats through three state championships in as many baseball seasons. This year he is expected to repeat the performance as he has excellent material with which to work.

Gill has been spending the past few months in Michigan City, Indiana, where he is engaged in the garage business. Last summer he played professional ball in North Dakota.

FOUR HARD GAMES AHEAD FOR WILDCATS

Cincinnati, Auburn, Tennessee and Centre Next on List

BEARCATS WEDNESDAY

In the next four games which the Wildcats play they will meet the hardest opposition of the season. Wednesday night they will invade the den of the Bearcats at Cincinnati and attempt to continue their winning streak at the expense of the Ohians. Cincinnati has an unusually strong team this year and the Kentuckians will have to exert themselves to win the game.

Saturday night the Wildcats, for the first time in history, will play the net artists representing Alabama Polytechnic Institute of Auburn, Alabama. This promises to be one of the fastest games ever seen on the local floor as Auburn has already demonstrated that she has one of the best teams in the South. Auburn has defeated Mercer, and the latter romped over the Golden Tornado of Georgia Tech.

Saturday night, February 5, the Volunteers from the University of Tennessee will make their annual appearance on the local court. The following Tuesday night the Wildcats will meet the Centre College Colonels at Danville. The McMillanites have great confidence in themselves this year having negotiated for games with several of the big eastern universities. They have already defeated Kentucky Wesleyan, Georgetown, Transylvania, and the University of Louisville.

Centre defeated U. of L. by the margin of 14 points. Chattanooga went down to defeat before the Wildcats by the margin of 32 points. Chattanooga defeated U. of L. by 5 points.

Because of the demand on the time of the members of The Kernel staff in the preparation for semester examinations, and in the taking of these examinations, there will be no issue of The Kernel Friday of this week, Tuesday nor Friday of examination week, not Tuesday of the week following. The next Kernel will be the Friday issue, February 11.

WILDCATS SLAUGHTER CHATTANOOGA, 42 TO 10

King, Hayden, Adkins in Stellar Roles For Kentucky

TEAMWORK BEST YET

Uncorking a brand of basketball that astonished a record crowd of spectators and snowed under their opponents the Wildcats mercilessly slaughtered the University of Chattanooga Moccasins last Friday night by the score of 42 to 10. The Tennessee quintet played fast and displayed form, but at no time were they able to cope with the superior floor work and goal shooting of the Kentuckians.

Chattanooga made many attempts at long shots but none of them were successful. They managed to score three field goals and four fouls in the first half, but in the second period the Wildcats held them scoreless. The local team piled up nineteen field goals and King shot four fouls out of six attempts. Twenty-two of Kentucky's points were made in the second half.

The Wildcats went into the game believing that they were going up against a team that was one of the best in the South, as Chattanooga was defeated by Vanderbilt by only seven points. Both teams started off fast and for a time it looked as if Coach Buchheit's crew was going to have the battle of its career. At no time did either team slow down even to the last minute of play. Although the score was one sided the game was full of thrills and kept the attention of the spectators focused upon the basketballers until the final gun was fired.

Adkins led in goal shooting for the locals, caging 6 baskets, most of which were made from difficult positions. He was closely seconded by Captain Hayden whose stellar playing was a feature of the game. The Wildcat leader seemed to be all over the floor at one time and had no difficulty in making five goals. Bill King, besides shooting four field and four foul goals, broke up play after play for the invaders, and rode their big center throughout the game.

Lavin was a thorn in the side of the visitors, and his spectacular floor work has never been surpassed on the local floor. Ridgeway played his usual consistent game, breaking up plays for the Tennesseans and taking the ball away from them time and again.

As a whole the team played the best game that has been seen on the local floor in many years and should have no difficulty in carrying off the State championship. The team work was of the highest type.

"KITTENS" LOSE TO CINCY BY ONE POINT

Kentucky Girls In Lead Until Last Second of Play

KITTEN'S FIRST GAME

In one of the closest and hardest fought games ever played on the local floor the "Kittens" were defeated by the girl's quintet from the University of Cincinnati Saturday night by the score of 11 to 10. The "Bear Kittens" made the deciding tally in the last second of play when a field goal was tossed by Captain Parker.

The Kentucky girls were in the lead at the end of the first half and played superior ball during the entire game. Considering that it was the first game of the season for the Kittens they played remarkably well and with more practice should develop into a championship team.

The lineup follows:

Kentucky	Pos.	Cincinnati
Young (6)	F	Parker (6)
Jamison (2)	F	Cushman (4)
Cromwell (2)	C	Borreson (1)
Porter	G	Puss
Henry (Capt.)	G	Coldeway
Referee: Ralph Owens.

STUDENT COMMITTEE DOES EXTENSION WORK

Finds That "Kentucky" is Replacing "State" as University Title

During the Christmas Holidays the students of the University organized and carried out a systematic code of extension work. Aided by the various clubs of the campus, teams were selected to canvas the sections of the State that they were in during the holidays. Armed with illustrated bulletins of the University and a strong desire to tell everybody what the University is doing, the students visited their respective high schools and made talks to junior and senior classes. In some instances the senior classes were entertained by their Alumni, now students of the University of Kentucky. Banquets were given, theater parties were organized and dances held.

Some communities have completely changed their point of view of the University of Kentucky. In many parts of the State, and even in Lexington, the old name of "State College," which clung to the University for so long, is being wiped out, the students report, and "Kentucky" substituted in its stead. Students visited a number of large high schools of the State, and the report of the Student Committee is indeed very gratifying. This Student Committee cooperates with the Department of University Extension and other University Departments in carrying on this work. It is certainly commendable and shows a fine spirit in the student body to go out in this way and undertake to spread the gospel of the University of Kentucky. This is the spirit that will make Kentucky great and the spirit that will make the University of Kentucky one of the great institutions of the country.

KENTUCKY ORGANIZES A DEBATING LEAGUE

Extension Department To Organize High School Debate

FINALS HERE IN MAY

Announcement has been made by the University of the appointment of various district committees in the Interscholastic Debating League, which is being organized this year in the accredited schools of the State as an extension feature of the University. The purpose of the League is to foster debate and track work in athletics in such schools, as well as other activities, among which will be an essay writing contest.

The State has been tentatively divided into seven districts, as follows: Central Kentucky district, Northern Kentucky district, Louisville district, Henderson-Owensboro district, Paducah district, Eastern Kentucky district and Southeastern district. Each of these districts has a committee of two or three members in charge of the work to be carried on. Many of the larger schools have accepted membership in the League. Berea College, together with her normal school, has been requested to ally herself with the Southeastern district, since the Executive Committee believes that Berea's help is necessary to the successful operation of the work in that section of the State.

The State Executive Committee is

"THE MASQUERADER" ASSISTS STROLLERS

Guy Bates Post, Famous Actor, Visits University Dramatic Club

Members of the Stroller organization, and those interested in dramatics, will be interested to know that Guy Bates Post who appeared in "The Masquerader" Monday night at the Opera House, has consented to lend his aid in the selection of the cast for the Stroller production of James Matthew Barrie's "Admirable Crichton."

At the instance of the invitation extended by Herndon Evans, manager of the Strollers, Mr. Post and William H. Sams, who played the part of Herbert Frasier, were at the Little Theater Tuesday afternoon and heard the parts read. Mr. Post also made a short talk to the University players. Mr. Sam, who is Mr. Post's understudy, is familiar with the Barrie play.

Considerable difficulty has been experienced during the tryouts which started two weeks ago in settling the part of Lady Mary, for which Mamie Miller Woods, and Mary Elizabeth Downing are the outstanding contenders, and also the part of Tweeny for which there are a number of contenders.

Owing to the fact that The Kernel went to press before the meeting was over, the results of the try-outs could not be published in this issue.

A SUGGESTION

The Kernel's worst fears, felt for some time past but until now unexpressed, are confirmed by members of the American Optometric Association, who, in session at Chicago, have announced the discovery of a new eye disease known as photobia. According to these worthy gentlemen the affliction has fallen on the masculine population of the larger cities and is the result of "eye strain when one stares too intently at dazzling objects." We arise to say that we felt it coming.

Having long ago foreseen the future, we have had ample time to prepare for it and have devoted much deep thought to what can be done to prevent this dease from becoming prevalent on the campus. After giving the matter careful consideration from every angle and going deep into the possibilities of just what can be done we have arrived at the conclusion that one simple thing will avert calamity, and this thing is the provision of smoked glasses for those men students who wish to use the Library for purpose of study. We would suggest that a large rack be constructed just inside the door and upon this to be tastefully arrayed the glasses. As a further protection it might be well to have varied grades of smokiness, so that Seniors, who have been exposed to the dangers of the strain a greater length of time, may wear something in a becoming inky shade, while Freshmen who, although more susceptible to a disease thus incurred, have not had equal opportunities, may be provided with something tidy in a dark amber. We are in some doubt as to whether the use of glasses should be compulsory to all men or left to the judgment of the individual student. It is not the purpose of The Kernel to interfere with the pleasant pastime of the student who has an idle hour to while away and, in deference to these, perhaps the wearing should be optional. On the other hand, the presence of non-wearers in the Library may weaken the resolution of the student who has work to do. On the whole, it may be more conducive to the general welfare to harness all and sundry who present themselves for admittance, including members of the faculty under 80 years of age. We leave this question to the discretion of the Discipline Committee. In urging the adoption of this plan for the safety of the University's health, we might set forth the many other desirable results it would obtain incidentally, but these, we think, are obvious and insignificant in comparison with the chief motive presented above.

"STRANGLER" LEWIS NOT KENTUCKY MAN

World's Champion Wrestler
Claims to Have Been Student Here

TIGERT DENIES

Ed "Strangler" Lewis, who won the world's championship wrestling belt from Joe Stetcher recently in a match staged at Madison Square Gardens in New York, claims the University of Kentucky as his alma mater. In a statement given to newspaper men a short time ago Lewis admitted that he was a college man having at one time been a student at this institution.

In order to verify this statement Dr. Tigert was interviewed as he was director of athletics at the time Lewis claims to have been a student here. Doctor Tigert discredits this statement and says that the champion was never enrolled here as a student. For about three years, beginning with 1912, Lewis was located in Lexington and was given the privilege of using the University gym as a place to work out. Every afternoon he would use the gym and often gave exhibition matches in which he used University men to exercise on. In many amateur wrestling matches which took place among the students "The Strangler" was called upon to referee and he gave much advice to the would-be mat artists.

Lewis was at that time only 19 years old and was very powerfully built. Especially was he powerful in his arms and shoulders, which enabled him to perfect his victorious head lock, which is an outgrowth of the strangle hold. This hold gave the champion his "nom-de-guerre" but it was declared an unfair hold and has been banned from the game. He trained hard and exercised his body at every opportunity. Any afternoon visitors to the gym could see the future champ using the gymnastic apparatus or going through some of his mat exercises.

While he was located in Lexington, Lewis engaged in several professional matches, among which was one with the Old Zabisco. This was a handicap match in which Zabisco agreed to throw the Strangler twice in an hour. After three quarters of an hour he had succeeded in throwing Lewis once, but was unable to complete the bargain in the last fifteen minutes and Lewis got the decision.

STROLLER TRYOUTS RESUMED

EXTENSION DEPARTMENT MAKING GOOD PROGRESS

Efforts in New Field is Little Known to Our Students

MANY ARE ENROLLED

The Department of University Extension was organized at the University in the spring of 1919, and actually opened for work in September, 1919. The first year of the work was devoted largely to getting started in correspondence courses.

Seventy-five courses, mostly in the College of Arts and Sciences were offered, and during the first year more than 200 students were enrolled in regular college courses, and in addition seventy-five men were enrolled in a vocational course in Mining as candidates for mine foremen in the various mines of the State.

A special course in the Psychology of Advertising attended by some seventy-five Lexington business men, was conducted in the City of Lexington, the instruction being given by Dr. John J. Tigert, head of the Department of Psychology. Also during the first year considerable stimulus was given to lecture work and during the course of the year a considerable number of lectures were given over the State by members of the University staff. Work in community drama was organized and conducted through the Department by Miss Frances Jewell of the English Department.

At the beginning of the second year, plans were made for an Interscholastic League for Debate and Athletics. This was accomplished by a cooperative arrangement between the Department of University Extension, the Department of English and the Department of Physical Education. The Interscholastic League, conducted by W. H. Mikesell, is well under way. A State Tournament will be held on May 7 for Debate and for Track Athletics.

under the direction of S. A. Boles. This is expected to be an event of importance during the year. The question announced for debate has to do with compulsory arbitration of labor disputes between employers and employees of public utilities and large plans have been made to furnish data to the various schools participating in the League.

Of considerable importance is the work of the Department in organizing extension class instruction at various points over the State. Already five centers have been organized and more are being contemplated for organization in the near future. Class instruction in university subjects is being conducted at Covington, Frankfort, Paris, Versailles and there is also an extension class at Lexington, attended by teachers from Nicholasville, Lawrenceburg, and surrounding neighborhood.

Another important phase of the Department is the initiation of secondary instruction for the public school teachers of the State, in order to aid them in meeting the requirements of the new law which exacts of them a high school education plus one year's professional training by the year 1926. This program is being undertaken at the request of the State Superintendent of Schools, and consists of two parts, first, correspondence courses in high school subjects, and second, extension class instruction in high school subjects.

Its limitations are, first, the limitations of the University, to engage in outside work and; second, limitations in funds. The avenues which the Department may enter for work are numerous and there is no end to the good that might be accomplished with unlimited funds.

The Department of University Extension is organized at the University as an independent Department, the general policies of which are shaped by the Committee on University Extension consisting of Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, chairman; Professor J. T. C. Noe, Professor Enoch Grehan, Professor McHenry Rhoads, and Professor L. L. Dantzler. Wellington Patrick is the director and executive officer of the Department.
